1. Should events be specified by name or addressed in a general manner? (Miller, Chandorkar, Biethan, and Gregory) Policy as proposed: CC-10 – Encourage and support a wide variety of community festivals or events reflecting the diversity, heritage, and cultural traditions of the Redmond community.	Staff Comment/Recommendation: Staff recommends maintaining the policy as recommended to address timeliness and flexibility. The existing recommendation incorporates recommendations from Parks (Planning) and Office of Communications staff. For example, other significant, annual festivals and events include Eggstravaganza and the Digital Arts Festival. Public Comment: PC Comments: Several Commissioners expressed concern with eliminating event names such as Derby Days and Redmond Lights. Other Commissioners supported staff's recommendation and emphasized their support for flexibility and future modifications and/or additional community festivals and events.	Opened 5/24/11
2. Addition to preamble describing Historical Resource activities since 2000. (Hitzroth)	Staff Comment/Recommendation: Staff concurs with Landmark Commissioner Hitzroth's addition. Public Comment: Landmark Commissioner, Tom Hitzroth recommended the following addition to the text that precedes policy CC-33: "In 2000, the Redmond City Council designated 16 landmarks for protection called Key Historic Landmarks. In 2010 there were 11 sites designated as Redmond Regional Landmarks including the Redmond Pioneer Cemetery, one of two cemeteries in the county. There were also four sites designated as Redmond Regional Community Landmarks. In addition, with the owner's consent, other sites can be designated as Historic Landmarks by the City of Redmond." PC Comments:	Opened 6/8/11
